METH CHANGES EVERYTHING

Think of the things that are important to you. Use meth and chances are, they'll all be gone. That's because using meth just once can lead to addiction. And it's an addiction that will completely take over your life. You'll lie. You'll cheat. You'll steal. You'll become someone you're not. Do yourself a favor and stay away from it.

Knowing the signs of meth abuse might help you save someone's life.

Certain behavioral and physical changes are common among meth users. Signs of meth abuse include:

- Hyperactivity
- Drastic weight loss
- Dilated pupils
- Talkativeness
- Increased distractibility
- Tooth decay and loss of teeth
- Aggression
- Irritability
- Agitation
- Grandiose behavior
- Twitchiness
- Loss of interest in normal activities, such as food, water, sex, and sleep
- Getting "sketched out," or becoming agitated, nervous, moody, irritable, paranoid, and/or aggressive.
- Jumpy eyes
- Scratching, itching, or picking at skin
- Financial difficulties
- Not meeting financial obligations
- Absenteeism or tardiness at school or work
- Noticeable changes in behavior
- Cravings
- Social and interpersonal problems
- Impulsive behaviors
- Memory loss
- Bizarre and erratic behavior
- Repetitive behavior patterns that can last for hours, also called "tweaking" or "geeking."
- Sleep deprivation, resulting in hallucinations, delusions, extreme paranoia, or violence

State at war with meth

made if something is reported, but an investigation would ensue. Authorities would not arrest anyone without evidence or trail of evidence of someone having done something," said Bormann.

There is a multitude of ways this yearly and monthly reporting can be used," said Bormann. "We can study how things are traveling, like along the Interstate 90 and I-29 corridors. Like with Corson

County; how can we partner better with tribal law enforcement in the next year. Can we add some action, or more law enforcement positions, to get this stuff off of the streets? Where are local and state partnerships effective? Are local guys having a hard time, without assistance, staying on top of things? It's never-ending on where and how these reports can be used."

Once a year in South Dakota

a destruction order is given. All seized drugs no longer being held in evidence are transported to one of the three labs (the State Lab in Pierre, a lab in Rapid City and a lab in Sioux Falls) to be destroyed.

If you notice suspicious activity in your community call 911. Let's kick Meth out of here!!

Coffee shop, roasterie planned for Wind Street

When Jessica Hovland opens her coffee shop this fall, she wants to fill a need she's been hearing about since Flandreau's only similar business closed more than a year ago.

While there are places to drink coffee in town, people often mention the need for another coffee shop after Bean and Vine's owner pursued a different business in May of 2018.

"We've heard some good feedback," Hovland said of Flandreau Bistro and Roasterie that will open in the former Pizza Ranch building. While she plans to start off with some simple menu items including soup, salads and sandwiches along with coffee, smoothies and Hawaiian ice, she plans to grow in what is offered. In addition, she plans to eventually roast the coffee right on site and sell beans to other companies as well.

Hovland, who is the sole proprietor of the business under the LLC Pangica _ a Dakota word for "awesome" _ will turn over management to her husband Hovaka Bosin Sr. She will continue to work at her job with the Flandreau Santee Sioux Tribe and help with the family business on weekends.

Hovland and Bosin, who took official possession of the building Aug. 1, are working to freshen up the interior of the building, painting walls a modern gray and making repairs to sheetrock. She will have a family-oriented area on one side with a few books and toys and a quieter area for chatting on the other side. The building will have Wifi for customers who want to bring a computer in to work while enjoying their coffee or lunch.

Hours of operation haven't been finalized, but the business will have a drive-thru window.

"We have a lot of room to grow," she said of the large areas that will hold tables and comfy furniture. "We have to grow and expand into the space."

Their business fills in most of the vacant spaces on Wind Street, where in addition to some long-time bars, there also is a Mexican restaurant and a liquor store in a renovated building that previously was shuttered. Bosin will train and become certified in roasting beans, a service the business will add later this year. The beans will be available for customers to take home or for other businesses and restaurants to brand as their own, she said.

Through research, Hovland hasn't found any other Native American coffee roasters in the area, a market that may offer potential. "It's a 100 percent Native American, woman-owned business," she said.

She and her husband, who also have an Hawaiian ice food truck, have been working on plans for the bistro and roasterie since January.

"It was a lot of work, a lot of time," she said of plans for the business they have dreamed about. "The idea of a coffee shop has been there for a number of years."

Dear Friend,

Mentors inspire young people to stay in school, believe in themselves, and live up to their potential. And in turn, individuals who mentor feel like they are giving back in a meaningful way. This coming school year, we are pleased to announce that the Everyday Heroes Mentoring Program will be offered in Flandreau! We're contacting you because we'd like to help CHURCH members become mentors!

Our goal is to match 20 5th and 6th grade Flandreau Middle School students with a mentor this school year. Mentoring takes just 30 minutes a week. It is a small time commitment that can make a lifetime of difference. Mentoring is linked to increased self-esteem, improved academic skills, fewer absences, and a heightened sense of citizenship...and it is fun! As a mentor, you don't need to tutor or counsel students, just show up and show them that you care.

We kindly ask your congregation to consider one of the following options to help us launch this effort in Flandreau:

- Insert information in a future bulletin. We can provide an insert to fit your specifications.
- Include information about mentoring in an upcoming church newsletter.
- Invite our staff or a current volunteer to speak at an upcoming service, set up an information table during fellowship time or present at a church committee or small group meeting.

LSS Mentoring is excited about the future and looks forward to working with congregations like CHURCH. Please contact us at Mentoring@LssSD.org or 605-444-7801 for more information.

MENTORS NEEDED

Mentoring is coming to Flandreau Middle School this year! Volunteers are needed to meet with 5th and 6th grade students for 30 minutes per week at school.

Students are waiting to share their smile, stories and perspective with you. You have the power to make a difference for the next generation. Apply today.
